When speaking of the make-up of next year's league, he said he was neartily in favor of getting a place for Ogden, as he believed that town would make good in the Pacific National. He said, in his opinion, that this could be easily accompilished if Ogden would send a representative to the meeting, and that the fans of the Junction City who wanted baseball for next year ought to get together at once and send some one to the Butte meeting. Rogers intimated that he would be glad to represent that town it they desired him to do so, but would rather have them send a representative up there with authority to act.

According to President Williams, Boise is still a member of the Pacific National league, and a live one at that. He says he has just received a letter from the Idaho town in which it was stated that Poise had not flunked, and what is more, did not intend to. Williams further says: "That the Pacific National is still in existence there is not the least doubt, and if there are any persons who think that they can get the franchises of the Pacific National league without a fight they are barking up the wrong tree. I have no objections to making the league a six-team affair, and would be glad to see it so. But the rumor that the Pacific National league is broken up is more than I can stand, and I wish to say that as long as I am a director of the league there will be no nullification of Brilliants Taken Down the Line in Easy Fashion.

A. W. SMITH LAYS OFF AND HIS TEAM IS ROUTED.

Captain A. W. Smith of the Brilliants stood on the side lines last evening while his team entered the contest with the Nonpareils and got a trimming. This is given as the reason for the defeat. A. W. had a bad leg, which prevented the delivery of the ball as set down by Hoyle, and the team without a captain was like a ship without a rudder, for no one was present who could explain the curves necessary to get a strike and prevent a split. Smith says he will be off the hospital list by next week, when there will be a different story to tell.

With the single exception of the work of Hanes, there was nothing done which will keep the league historiaus working overtime. This roller did fairly well and walked off with a 200 and over average. Henderson started off as if he had designs on the record, but fell by the wayside. Young exhibited a touch of his former self in the second game, but showed he was trained too fine to stand the pace, and biew up in the stretch.

GIVEN LONG SENTENCES

Holdups Will Spend Twenty and Eighteen Years in State Prison For Their Cr.mes.

Joseph Davis was yesterday sentenced to serve twenty years in the state prison for the crime of robbery. His partner, John Burke, was sentenced to serve eighteen years. They had entered pleas of guilty, but this did not avail them much in the way of mitigating their sentences. Davis was onee before sent to the state prison from the Second district court on sentence for burglary. For that reason the judge made his sentence heavier by two years than that of his companion. These are the two men who entered the store of Mrs. Olsen about two months ago and robbed the till of about $55, holding revolvers in readiness to use on the woman in case she made any resistance or aftempt to escape. The same man also heal by G. A. Hinley a few nights later, but did not zet any money from him. Davis, whose real name is Frank Cunningham, had evidently expected a lighter sentence and had the words "Thank you" at his tongue's end ready for utterance. The words came out anyway as the prisoner sank stolidly back into his seat.

Burke received his eighteen years without a word of gratifude.

James Miller was sentenced to serve a term of three years in the state prison for housebreaking.

James Anderson was sentenced to serve a term of three years in the state prison for housebreaking.

policy of being the first steam railroad in the world to reduce the movement of trains by telephone to a systemized practice, clothed with the best safet guards, as has been the telegraph train-handling system that has been in operation for many years. The use of the telephone in this connection having been demonstrated to be effective, the management of the road has authorized its officials to avail themselves of this valuable auxiliary from time to time as experience proves it to be desirable, economical and in any way tend to safely hasten the movement of trains.

A conference of the dispatching forces was held recently at Baltimore and a set of rules and forms was arranged so as to reduce the method of handling trains by telephone to a standardized system. Mr. Charles Selden, superintendent of telegraph, was chairman of the conference, and it is the expectation that every non-telegraph station that has a passing siding will be fitted un with a telephone constitution.

graph station that has a passing siding will be fitted up with a telephone con-nection to the nearest telegraph office. This will enable the transmission of train orders from the telegraph office to the train crews at such sidings direct, or to an employe stationed there for that purpose.

Composite System Used.

For some time the Baltimore & Ohio railroad has been extending the use of the telephone for the transmission of ordinary business messages, connecting the division headquarters with the terminals of the divisions by means of the "composite" telephone method This system admits of the simultaneous working of the wires telephonically and telegraphically without interfering with each other. Such circuits have been established between Chicago and Garrett, Ind.; between Garrett and Chiof the before-election pledges made by the council members.

Henry Lane notified the mayor and he mayor notified the council that he ad a claim against the city of $10.750 s the result of injuries which he revived because of a defective sidewalk the north side of Washington avenue ar the Lowe building, about three note on claims, he usual payrolls and bills red. cago Junction, O., thus connecting up the Chicago division; between Newark and Chicago Junction; between Newark ing the circuits for the division located at Grafton. There are also circuits between Baltimore and Brunswick, Md., and Baltimore and Philadelphia for a like purpose.

Advantages of System.

In addition to these long circuits the telephone is used extensively in single-track blocking and for the movement of yard engines and the connection of non-telegraph stations with telegraph stations by which trains are moved from the former to the latter where the ordinary telegraph orders are received. In this manner the telephone is used for single-track blocking between New-ark and Bellaire, O.

The telegraph offices average about eight miles apart, and at many points the siding extends beyond the telegraph office a distance of about two miles. By having the telephone located at the switches, a train is allowed to use the passing siding up to the cutlet switch. Then as soon as the train for which it has been held has passed, the conductor notifies the operator in the block signal tower and he is given permission to proceed with his train to the next block. signal office. In this the blocks are practically cut down so far as main track used is concerned, just so much as the side tracks extend into the blocks. In some instances it permits of the use of four miles of passing tracks, leaving but four miles of main tracks are practically cut down so far as main track used is concerned.

On recommendation of the special waterworks committee, the city council last night unanimously voted against granting the request of the Ogden Waterworks company for a fifty-year franchise.

The report was signed by all five of the members—Moise, Emmett. Randall. Craig and Williams. It was quite lengthy and criticised the water company to the extent of a dozen paragraphs. It refers to the franchise under which the company was doing business, claims that the distributive system is old and ready to fall to pieces, and that the company has not a legal title to the water it uses.
